

My sister and I

Part 3

And suddenly a fresh chapter began
You embarked upon a different plan
We both found love and unfamiliar joy
At home, I raised my boy

I began to love your kindness
Your passion and fight
And your need for inspiration
When you walked alone at night
And you trembled with creation
When you settled down to write

If I can't tell you how I feel
How will you know that my song is real
That I also have been scarred by love
Shouting to stars above

I who hence lived to a demon's plan
Will never fully understand
By your safely chosen forward path
Of the cautious man
There is one thing left to do
You must know how I love you