

Now is Forever

Now that I see you in the first light of the day
I can't turn my eyes from the smile upon your face
Now I will love you and ask nothing in exchange
Now is forever, love won't fade

Now there are no conditions we need to impose
This kiss is not a bargain let's see how it goes
It will melt all the bonds and leave us free to roam
And fill the vacuum of our souls

Now I have nothing and there's nothing to explain
I want to touch you, I am not compelled by gain
No need to claim you and possess you as my kin
Just the soft lingering of your fingers on my skin
This tender trap could pull us down a well-worn lane
Now and forever I don't need to share my name
All that I need is your embrace

Now that I see you in the last light of the day
I can't turn my eyes from the beauty of your face
Now I will love you and ask nothing in exchange
Now is forever, love can't fade

Your eyes are windows to look deep inside my heart
I have no reason or desire to depart
No need for exits or to find a way to leave
Now is forever and I'm here

I sing, longing for what's done
Memories in the song
Everything is gone
Everything is long gone
