

One Early Morning

One early morning, my baby
Just found out you were with us
Fear in our hearts for your future
'fraid if our love would reach you.
Stronger grew our love just for you
Stronger your still fragile wings.

Safe in the nest we had built you
Feel our hearts beat just for you,
Three tangled souls dancing freely,
Beat of our young family.
Ready for life and its secrets,
Ready for wonders to meet.

Heartbeat – life's song – our love – only for you

Feel all the sun on your feathers,
Free from our nest and the tree
Feel the soft breeze when you squeak dear,
Feel every joy, every tear.
Grow little one, spread your wings wide,
Grow to be all you can be.

Home is our hearts and our warmth, love
Always there while you grow free,
Safe harbor near when it's stormy,
Shoulder to cry on in need.
Fly over peaks, sear on waters leaving behind certain times

Spread your – wings wide – sing loud – world at your feet